

DIG PARTIES ARE ACTIVE TO GET VOTES OF WOMEN

Mere Man Demoted to Second Place in Political Show Now Playing—Fair Sex in Center of Stage.

BY MILDRED MORRIS, (International News Service Staff Correspondent.)

NEW YORK, Oct. 5.—Mere man has been demoted to second place in the great political show now playing. The lady with the ballot has grabbed the center of the stage.

As a star she has all others backed off the boards. The two big political parties are vying with each other to court her favor. They are spending half of their campaign funds in the race to win her vote. Tons of literature are being printed, hundreds of speakers sent out, and an army of publicity agents, clerks and other workers maintained both in New York and Chicago—all for her special benefit.

What issues appeal to the new woman voter? What does she want? How should she be approached? These are the questions worrying the political leaders. And with approximately 27,000,000 women ready to cast their ballots in November, they are anxious to find the answers.

A reporter calling at the headquarters of the Republican national committee, No. 12 West Forty-fourth street, with the inquiry: "What are you doing to get the woman voter?" was led to the office of Mrs. Arthur Livermore, a member of the Republican national executive committee and chairman of the Eastern section of the party's woman campaign.

Mrs. Livermore, one of the wealthiest New York women who were active in the suffrage movement and are now devoting their time to politics. She was known as one of the cleverest speakers in the suffrage campaign.

"What are we doing? My dear young woman, have you a week to spare? It will take at least a week to tell half of what we are doing to mobilize the woman vote," said Mrs. Livermore.

"We Republicans believe in preparedness, so we began more than a year ago to educate the woman voter in Republicanism. We opened night schools here in New York state to drill the women in the national issues. Our pupils gave close study to the platform of their party under the direction of instructors who pointed out why the Republican platform should appeal to every intelligent and home-loving woman."

"More Porch Campaigns." "We are now organizing porch campaigns and holding home clubs throughout the country. In New York we have a speaker each day address the women from a porch at Vanderbilt hotel. Everywhere in the summer resorts, we shall have meetings addressed from the porches of hotels and private homes. I plan to make a campaign speech from my own porch in Westchester county."

"Through these porch campaigns and Harding home clubs we shall take our campaign directly into the home. It is the home woman to whom we are making our appeal."

"Our other plans call for women speakers throughout the country. We are depending on Mrs. Nicholas Longworth, the former Alice Roosevelt, as our biggest speaking star."

Chicago Headquarters. "This office is carrying on only the Eastern part of the woman's campaign. Our national headquarters for the women are in Chicago with Mrs. Harriet Taylor Upton, vice chairman of the Republican national executive committee, in charge, and Mrs. Medill McCormick to direct the publicity. As most of the new women voters live in the East we feel here that we have a big job on our hands."

Democratic Women Active. At the Democratic national headquarters in the Grand Central Palace more women were in evidence than men. You had your choice between two breezy and competent publicity agents, Miss Louise Graham and Miss Mary Chamberlain and in the absence of Mrs. George Bass, head of the woman's bureau, you could discuss the woman's campaign with Mrs. J. Borden Harriman, Miss Edith Ogden, resident vice-chairman of the bureau, or Mrs. James C. Cantrell, wife of Congressman Cantrell of Kentucky, and national Democratic committee woman for home states.

Miss Chamberlain, looking over the women's Western headquarters. She divides her time between New York and Chicago headquarters. When at one place she directs the work of the other over a leased wire.

"It would be useless for us to conduct porch campaigns," said Mrs. Borden Harriman, chairman of the National League of Nations club, "for the reason that the women we appeal to either cannot afford to come to their homes or have no time to sit on them."

"We are organizing everywhere in the country League of Nations clubs for the women. They will meet with noted speakers to explain to the new woman voters and all who attend the real meaning of the league of nations."

Many Women Speakers. "Of course I shall have scores of women speakers. Mrs. Antoinette Funk of Chicago, already campaigning in Maine, and Mrs. Kellogg Fairbanks also of Chicago, will take the stump in Connecticut."

"Following our first big women's mass meeting in Louisville, Ky., we shall hold similar meetings all over the country."

"What are the big issues in the campaign from the woman's standpoint?"

"First, let Mrs. Harriman answer. 'The league of nations is the only issue,' she says. 'The Democratic party is going before the woman voters on that issue alone. It is a crusade, the women of the United States want no more war. To keep faith with those who died in France and Flanders they will go to the polls to endorse President Wilson's league of nations.'"

"But Mrs. Livermore, over at Republican headquarters, has a different opinion."

"The league of nations is not an issue in the campaign," she said. "The Democrats are holding it out as a bait to the women. We deny that the league will stop war and we leave it to the intelligence of the women to decide whether it does not mean more war."

"What is the issue before the women? The extravagance of the present government. It would not be fair for us to hold the Democratic administration entirely responsible, but we do say that living costs would have been reduced if Democratic extravagance had been stopped. We are showing the women that one-half of the high cost of living results from the call of government, and we are calling on them to do full housekeeping. The Democratic motto since Woodrow Wilson has been president has been 'rule or ruin.'"

WHO'LL VOTE FOR HARDING AFTER HE RAN AWAY FROM THIS PAIR OF STAGE BEAUTIES?

Senator Harding got away, but the stage stars corralled Charles F. Hughes at Marion, O., and made him line up with them for a picture. The lady on the left is Zeena Keefe. The lady holding the former justice by the left arm is Ruby de Roemer. Eugene O'Brien and Leo Carillo follow, with George Christian, private secretary to Senator Harding, on the extreme right. The gentleman on the extreme left, reclining on a lounge in the picture, is Jack Connolly, a well-known Washington newspaper correspondent. The man peering over Justice Hughes' shoulder is "Charlie" Pettibone, well-known movie lawyer.

POWERS MAY HAVE TO EVENTUALLY STOP POLISH WAR

Hatred Between Slavs and Slavic Russians May Prevent Solution of Racial Problems.

BY JOHN E. LATHROP, (American Political Advisor to Polish Government.)

LONDON, Oct. 5. (By International News Service.) The question of what territory Poland is to possess permanently will not be answered for months to come. It is a case of two Slavic peoples seeking to compose differences which involve hatreds, ambitions and necessities arising from hundreds of years of antagonism. And the admitted penchant for delay, indecision and intrigue, which is not antithetical to the Slavic nature, will prevent an early settlement of the boundary questions.

Eventually the powers will have to step in. They will have to use Russian desire for trade resumption—tantamount to recognition of the Soviet government—and the Polish need for an early composition of a peace, in pressure on both countries to end the wastes of war and go to productive labor again.

Poland insists that Russia give hands off Lithuania and the Ukraine. Poland contends that the Lithuanian expedition to Kiev, capital of Ukraine, was not antithetical. That who should only to free Ukraine from Russian domination. It will be difficult to convince the world that she did not attempt to create a moral debt, acknowledging which Ukraine would yield more or less of control to Poland of the trade route from the Baltic port. Looking up the Vistula across a canalized stretch to the Angler river, and down that river to Odessa, Russia's best southern outlet, to the sea.

SINGER AND SON OF POET-WARRIOR CHEERED AT FIUME DAY RALLY

Ugo d'Annunzio (left) and Enrico Caruso at the "Fiume day" rally. With the violet blue and yellow flag of Fiume overhead, more than 5,000 persons, most of Italian birth, thronged the city college stadium in New York to listen to patriotic addresses delivered by some of America's foremost figures, commemorating the anniversary of the occupation of Fiume by Gabriele d'Annunzio. Prominent among those present were Enrico Caruso, who delighted the audience with his songs, and Captain Ugo d'Annunzio, son of the famous poet-warrior.

TEACHERS PROTEST BAN ON DANCING

Pass Resolutions "Holier Than Thou" Viewpoint.

NEW YORK, Oct. 5. (By International News Service.)—More resolutions denouncing the attitude of the Methodist church toward the amusement profession have been adopted by the American Society of Teachers Dancing at its convention here. The resolutions follow:

"Whereas, the Rev. E. L. Cels, pastor of the Ashbury Methodist Episcopal church, Cincinnati, is recently quoted as saying: 'No dancing teacher is wanted as a member of Ashbury church,' said and typifying the attitude of all too many Methodist churches; and

"Whereas, a dancing teacher of Wichita was not permitted to transfer her membership in that city to another because she was a dancing instructor; and

"Whereas, the Actors' Equity association has expressed its sympathy with all persons so treated, resenting such action as much as if accorded to an actor; and

"Whereas, the Rev. Dr. Robert M. Moore, pastor of St. Mark's M. E. church, Brooklyn, has notably held out the hand of Christian fellowship to dancing teachers;

"Therefore, be it resolved, The American Society of Teachers of Dancing, the oldest organization of its kind in America, in forty-third annual convention assembled, appreciates the good will and co-operation of the Actors' Equity association with its over 14,000 members."

"This society, composed largely of members of the Christian churches, feels indignant at this long-continued 'holier-than-thou' viewpoint of the Methodist Episcopal church toward the amusement profession. It commends all ministers who evidence signs of a liberal point of view. This society also expresses its thanks to J. Henry Smythe, Jr., of New York city, who is waging a valiant fight to amend the Methodist amusement blue laws."

SHE IS A WISE WOMAN

Who recognizes in the tell-tale symptoms such as backache, headaches, dragging sensations, nervousness and irritability the true cause and relies on Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to restore her to a healthy normal condition. For forty years this root and herb remedy has been the most successful in controlling the diseases of women. Merit alone could have stood such a test of time.

At a time when I had become discouraged at trying various hair lotions, tonics, specialists' treatments, etc., I came across, in my travels, a Cherokee Indian "medicine man" who had an elixir that he asserted would grow my hair. Although I had but little faith, I gave it a trial. To my amazement a light hair soon appeared. It developed, day by day, into a healthy growth, and ere long my hair was as profuse as in my youthful days.

I was astonished and happy to express my state of mind mildly. Obviously, the hair roots had not been dead, but were dormant in the scalp, awaiting the fertilizing potency of the mysterious poultice. I negotiated for and came into possession of the principle for preparing this mysterious elixir, now called Kotalmo, and later had the recipe put into practical form by a chemist. That my own hair growth was permanent has been amply proved. Many men and women, also children, have reported satisfactory results from Kotalmo.

How YOU May Grow YOUR Hair

My honest belief is that hair roots rarely die even when the hair falls out through dandruff, fever, excessive dryness or other disorders. I have been told by experts that often when the roots become imbedded within the scalp, covered by dead skin, so that they remain for a time like bulbs or seeds in a bottle which will grow when fertilized. Shampooing which contains alcohol and hair lotions which contain alcohol are enemies to the hair, as they dry it, making it brittle. Kotalmo contains the elements of nature which give new vitality to the scalp and hair.

New Hair Growth After BALDNESS

HAIR GROWN ON MR. BRITTAIN'S BALD HEAD BY INDIANS' MYSTERIOUS HAIR GROWER

My head at the top and back was absolutely bald. The scalp was shiny. An expert said that as he thought the hair roots were extinct, and there was no hope of my ever having a new hair growth. Yet now, at an age over 60, I have a luxuriant growth of soft, strong, lustrous hair! No trace of baldness. The pictures shown here are from my photographs.
